LIVING ARRANGEMENTS

You are responsible for making arrangements for accommodation on your own, but we can recommend some options preferred by our previous students. There are plenty of accommodation options for both short and long-term accommodation, and there is a lot of variation in prices, size and quality.

The main difficulty is that often the minimum length of a lease contract is 6 months. However, it is possible to find accommodation ranging from 1 – 4 months in length. Sometimes the owners who initially require at least 6 months rental agreement agree to a shorter period if you pay a decent amount of money extra when signing the agreement. It's most often easiest to find accommodation after arriving at your study location by staying the first few nights at a hotel or hostel and shopping around for suitable accommodation options.

When looking for a hotel, we recommend online hotel service Agoda. Agoda lists thousands of hotels worldwide and there is a various range of Asian hotels as well. You can easily search for affordable hotels and make bookings via their service. Some of the long-term accommodation providers let you stay in also with daily rental pricing.
